HEALING VOICE - KRISZTINA NEMETH- JUNE 2019

Krisztina writes: It is said that our body is made up with 60 trillion cells, and each cell has a different vibration depending on its role and these vibrations emit sounds. Needless to say, they are the sounds that we cannot hear, though, we can say that all cells and organs emit sounds. When a malfunction occurs in the body or when that body is unbalanced, so are the vibrations. In order to remedy such a condition, we give the correct or right vibrations to bring back the balance.
